

Resolution for the Northern Great Lakes Synod to enter into “A Year of Discovery”

Passed by the Synod Council of the Northern Great Lakes Synod, March 21, 2020

WHEREAS, we confess with our Native siblings that the whole of creation is God’s work, that God declares it all as good, and that God’ spirit dwells within it; and we as the church confess that Jesus Christ became incarnate in human form to show God’s love and mercy to all humanity, in all its variety, and to every race and people on every continent of the earth; and in the service of Affirmation of Baptism in Evangelical Lutheran Worship, we commit to “serve all people, following the example of Jesus, and to strive for justice and peace in all the earth;” and

WHEREAS, when European explorers came to the Americas, it is estimated that somewhere between 50 and 100 million native peoples inhabited North and South America, and that within several hundred years, those numbers declined by approximately 80%, due to warfare, massacre, disease and other factors; and

WHEREAS, we acknowledge with pain and regret that native peoples were removed from lands they had occupied for hundreds of years, often forcibly, and their children were placed in boarding schools, resulting in the division of families, the loss of language, culture, and religion in an attempt to colonize them, resulting in profound social, emotional, and spiritual crisis in native communities; and

WHEREAS these practices were undergirded by the Papal bull issued by Alexander VI in 1493, called the “Doctrine of Discovery,” that any land not inhabited by Christians was available to be discovered and claimed by Christian rulers, so that the Christian religion could be spread throughout the new world, and was incorporated into U.S. federal law in the 1823 case of Johnson v. McIntosh, establishing that the United States inherited all rights to lands conquered by the English and this law was further strengthened by the belief that God had ordained all American land be claimed as the “manifest destiny” of the United States to grow and expand across the continent; and

WHEREAS the 2016 ELCA Churchwide Assembly adopted the social policy resolution to repudiate explicitly and clearly the European-derived Doctrine of Discovery as an example of the “improper mixing of the power of the church and the power of the sword” (Augsburg Confession, Article XXVIII, Latin text), and to acknowledge and repent from this church’s complicity in the evils of colonialism in the Americas, which continue to harm tribal governments and individual tribal members; and

WHEREAS, the Northern Great Lakes Synod occupies land originally inhabited by Native American peoples, ceded to the U.S. in the 1842 treaty, and has yet to join seventeen other ELCA synods* in acknowledging the church’s part in this conquest and express support for the sovereignty of Native American tribes, by joining them in speaking out for just treatment, promoting harmony, reconciliation and mutual understanding within and among our communities, and

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that that the Northern Great Lakes declare the year of May 2020 to May 2021 as a time of reflection, education, and conversation within our congregations and church communities regarding the historical content of the Doctrine of Discovery and the impact it has had and continues to have on the indigenous peoples of this continent. And

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this ‘Year of Discovery’ be used to understand and appreciate the history, heritage and culture of Native American peoples and acknowledge the contributions that Native Americans have made and continue to make to the life and the culture of this country, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this ‘Year of Discovery’ be used to engage in dialogue with Native American siblings and to build and improve relations with them.

Change to: BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this ‘Year of Discovery’ be used to deepen our understanding of our Native American siblings and to build and improve relations with them.
